

Nai-Fang Chi MD

Taipei Medical University-Shuang Ho Hospital Taiwan

Position:

Director of Stroke Center

Major Field:

Cerebrovascular diseases and hemodynamics

Professional Experience:

Cerebral autoregulation

Dr. Nai-Fang Chi is an attending neurologist of Taipei Medical University Shuang Ho Hospital since 2008. He has been a research fellow of stroke center at Yale University in 2010. He is currently the director of stroke center of Shuang Ho Hospital and faculty of Taipei University. His interests of research is cerebral hemodynamics, biomarkers of cerebrovascular diseases, and neuroimaging. He has publications focusing in cerebral blood flow autoregulation and risk factors of cerebrovascular diseases.