

Yi-Pin Chiang MD, PhD

Mackay Memorial Hospital Taiwan

Dr. Yi-Pin Chiang was graduated at 1993 in China Medical College and finished his residency training at Mackay Memorial hospital in 1997 when he started to study musculoskeletal ultrasound. He used to be a visiting scholar at department of bone radiology in Henry Ford hospital, Detroit, U.S.A. in 2004 for musculoskeletal image training. After that, he received his Ph.D. degree at National Taiwan Normal University, His fields of interest were ultrasonography and exercise physiology.

Professional Experience:

Assistant Professor, Mackay Medical College

MD fellow, Department of bone radiology, Henry Ford Hospital, Michigan, U.S.A

Research Fellow, Department of PM&R, Stanford University, California, U.S.A.