

Walter Grassi MD

Professor of Rheumatology and Director, Postgraduate School in Rheumatology at the Università Politecnica delle Marche
Chief of the Rheumatology Clinic
Italy

Walter Grassi gained his MD at the University of Ancona, Italy in 1979. Since 1997 he has been a Professor of Rheumatology and Director of the Postgraduate School in Rheumatology at the Università Politecnica delle Marche, and Chief of the Rheumatology Clinic at the Jesi Medical Center, Ancona, Italy.

His main interests include musculoskeletal imaging, ultrasonography, chronic arthritis, microcirculation, and nailfold capillary microscopy. His current research interests focus on the role of sonography in early diagnosis and therapeutic monitoring of rheumatoid arthritis and seronegative spondyloarthropathies.

Professor Grassi has authored over 350 publications including original articles and chapters in various textbooks of Rheumatology and Internal Medicine, has delivered over 200 invited lectures at international meetings, and is a peer reviewer for the leading international journals. He is also a member of the editorial boards of Annals of the Rheumatic Diseases, Clinical and Experimental Rheumatology, Clinical Rheumatology, and Reumatismo.