

Kwang Hyub Han

Yonsei Univ. College of Medicine
South Korea

Education:

- 1973 - 1979 Graduated Yonsei University College of Medicine, Seoul, Korea
- 1990 – 1992 Research associate in Baylor College of Medicine
- 2012 - Present Member of The Korean Academy of Science Technology
- 2013 – 2017 Professor and Chairman, Department of Internal Medicine, Yonsei University College of Medicine
- 2013- Present Professor, Department of Internal Medicine, Yonsei University College of Medicine
- 2015 - Present Director, Yonsei Liver Center Severance Hospital

Professional Experience:

He also served as the president of Korean Association for the Study of the Liver, hosting president of Liver Week 2014 and 2015. He was also the hosting president of APASL STC 2016 in Busan. At present, he is a member of The Korean Academy of Science Technology and executive committee member of CEVHEP.

Honors & Awards:

- Yonsei Award for Medicine 2017
- "A novel primer-extension assay for the detection of G to A mutation in the distal precore region of a hepatitis B virus DNA in Journal of Viral Hepatitis"
- "Genetic Mutation of HBV core promoter and pre-C region in patients with chronic hepatitis B." Glaxo Wellcome Academic Publication Award of the Korean Association for the Study of the Liver, 2000
- The Best Presentation Prize by Korean Association for the Study of the Liver, 1995