

Torben Lorentzen MD, Ph.D

Herlev Hospital, University of Copenhagen
Denmark

Since 1990, he has been actively involved in various aspects of ultrasound, mainly Doppler imaging, Contrast Enhanced Ultrasound, Trans anal/rectal Ultrasound and Interventional Ultrasound. His PhD thesis from 1997 is about Ultrasound guided RF ablation. He is the former President of the Danish Society of Diagnostic Ultrasound (DSDU).

He has published more than 75 papers and presented more than 100 lectures at national or international courses or congresses in the field of radiology and ultrasound.

He has significant experience with abdominal ultrasound imaging including:

Ultrasound contrast agents

Ultrasound guided biopsy, drainage and ablation

Intraoperative and laparoscopic ultrasound

Transrectal and transvaginal ultrasound.