

---

Cheuk-Kay Sun

Shin Kong Wu Ho-Su Memorial Hospital
Taiwan

---

Professional Experience:

August 2000 – October 2000

Visiting Fellow, Digestive Disease Center, Medical University of South Carolina, USA

January 2004 – March 2004

Visiting Fellow, Department of Gastroenterology,

Kitasato University East Hospital, Tokyo, Japan

July 2006 – September 2006

Visiting Fellow, Department of Interdisciplinary Endoscopy,

University Medical Center of Hamburg-Eppendorf, Germany

After graduation from Kaohsiung Medical College in Taiwan, Dr. Sun received advanced training in therapeutic endoscopy at prestigious institutions including the Medical University of South Carolina (MUSC), under the guidance of Professor Peter Cotton, the University Medical Center of Hamburg-Eppendorf under Professor Nib Soehendra and Kitasato University East Hospital under Professor Mitsuhiro Kida.

Dr. Sun's specialties include diagnostic and therapeutic endoscopy of pancreatobiliary tract diseases, especially through ERCP, therapeutic EUS, IDUS and sphincter of Oddi manometry. In addition, he is also skillful with many endoscopic techniques, including PEG, balloon assisted enteroscopy, gastrointestinal tract stenting and POEM. Dr. Sun is active in many domestic and international meetings and has been invited for speech and live demonstration.